The heavy weight of snow was too much for the structure and it suddenly gave way. Mr. George Waggoner was passing along the side walk and, unfortunately. as the awning broke he was just passing under it. The weight crushed him to the ground. He was taken out from under it in an unconscious condition. Death was inevitable as his spine was severely injured, but he lingered along 'till last Friday night, when he had to cross the dark river. His funeral was preached by Rev. D. C. Smith in the Presbyterian church on Sunday and his remains interred to the Parrish cemetery remains interred in the Parrish cemetery Pinkston Sunday afternoon. Where Shall We Spend the Win-

Now that summer is past and the winter almost at hand, the first thing that enters the mind of many is where to go to escape the cold weather. Notices of different resorts are sought in every publication and the selection of one is finally de lided upon, but in many cases the idea of visiting them is given up on the supposition that the trip will cost too much.

The Burlingron Route (K. C., St. J & C. B. R. R.) being fully aware of the uncertainty of minds in general, and always equal to such emergencies, are propared to offer special inducements in he way of low rates to tourist points in California, New Mexico, Mexico, Texas, Florida, and in fact, to all points in the outh and southwest. They have on sale at all coupon stations a full line of ourist tickets which will allow the surchaser a liberal limit both going and returning, and a choice of routes so as to enable them to visit different points of interest. Make up your mind to take strip to the land of perpetual summer where the breezes are ladened with tropical odors and cold wintry blasts

For further information in regard to routes, rates, &c., call on the Ticket Agent, n your immediate vicinity or address by letter A. C. Dawes, G. P & T. A., St.

-There is no doubt that the most gigantic trust ever proposed in America has gone by the board. To succeed, it was absolutely necessary that the Me-Cormick interests be enlisted, and every effort was made to get them in. However, when these, the largest manufacturers in the world, declined to combine. nothing was left but to abandon the unlertaking. The collapse of the scheme will be good news to the farmers of the west who have been supplied from St. Joseph. The St. Joseph Agency last vear sold sold 3,000 machines and over half a million pounds of binding twine. 55,000 pounds of which was sold direct to local organizations of the Farmers and Laborers Union. A little time spent in calculating will show what a tax would have been lesied on the farmers in the St. Joseph territory alone, had the trust been formed and prices advanced, as they certainly would have been. As the matter now stands the harvester companies will be compelled to rustle as usual for business, and if there are any benefits to be derived from competition they will be reaped for the farmer .- St. Joe Herale .
